After a preposition

Use the stressed form after avec, sans, pour or chez when referring to a person.

> Tu viens avec moi ?
> Are you coming with me?

> Nous sommes chez eux.
> We are at their place.

A reply or an emphasis

A reply can stand alone. When highlighting a subject, keep the ordinary subject pronoun with the verb.

> Qui commence ? — Moi !
> Who starts? — Me!

> Moi, je reste ici.
> As for me, I am staying here.

Soi refers back to an indefinite person: Chacun pour soi means “everyone for themselves”. For a named person, use the appropriate personal form.
